DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, drawn to an "Aramid Paper," classified in class 428, subclass 474.4.
 - II. Claim 15, drawn to a "Printing Wiring Board," classified in class 174, subclass 262.
 - III. Claim 16, drawn to "Electrical Insulating Material," classified in class 428, subclass 141.
 - IV. Claims 17-19, drawn to a "Composite Structure," classified in class 428, subclass 537.5.
 - V. Claims 20-22, drawn to a "Structural material," classified in class 428, subclass 327.
 - VI. Claims 23-30, drawn to a "Process of Making Papers," classified in class 162, subclass 146.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and (II-V) are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product, and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.05(j)). In the instant case, the intermediate product is deemed to be useful as all of the other products of groups (II-V), i.e., the different products of groups II-V evidence the distinctness of the final products and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct because there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants.

3. Inventions VI and (I-V) are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product can be made by a materially different process of making, such as film forming, air-laying, etc.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
